Slemp Accepts The Challenge

BILLY SLEMP

Of Anadarko, who met the Man-gum Farmer here on the mat last week. He was not in condition for the match, but made a good showing under the circumstances. He agrees to accept the Farmers' challenge which was published in Sunday's Democrat.
All he asks is for a little time to get in proper condition. Place and date will be announced later.

The south has one notable advantage over any other portion of the United States. It can weather through a long drought until the early crops of the year are destroyed and then plant and make another crop before frost. This is something that cannot be done in the more northern regions.
Come south and put in two years in one.

There is a strong probability of Governor Crow calling an extra session of the legislature. The redistricting bill will undoubtedly pass at the present session of congress. If does most states will need to adjust their congressional districts. When this is done it should be at a special session, so as not to be contaminated with any conflicting interests. All attention should be given to a prudent and safe adjustment, regardless of the personal whims of some incompetent and ambitious aspirants. The public welfare, rather than private motives should govern the actions of legislators in this matter.

The death of Mrs. Nargisa Oxen, mother of Senator Owen, marked the passing of a noted character. She was a lineal discendant of Powhatan, of royal Indian blood. She was also ever devoted to the south, her native land, and did much to aid the Confederate cause during the civil war.

If nothing serious happens a good crop of fall gardens will be raised, as nearly every one is planting again.

A Farmer Kills Another

Tuscaloosa, Ala., July 17.—Following an altercation in which warm words were freely used, Eugene Eugene B. Tierce shot and killed Nick House yesterday afternoon. The killing took place on Tierces farm, nine miles north of this city, and was witnessed by two sons of Tierce, a man named Chastine and his two sons and a negro. Conditions in this part of the state have been strained for some time, and it is reported that depredations have been frequent. Tierce is said to have lost two houses by fire, supposedly of incendiary origin. It is thought it was in regard to this the he engaged House in conversation. Another report is that Tierce challenged him about killing his dog, and House replied he did, and that he would kill him (Tierce) too.
When House's body was examined it was found that he was unarmed. Tierce gave himself up to the sheriff.

STEAMERS HIT; NINE DROWN

New Orleans, July 17.—Nine lives were lost in the collision between the river boats Dissante and Irma in the Sab Jean river Friday night, June 28, according to a story printed in the Bluefields, Glenham, American, in its issue of July 2, just received here. The collision took place about midnight, throwing the crew and passengers of both boats in a panic, leaping into the water.
"An investigation of the catastrophe," says the American,
"points to the fact that the captain of the Dissante was intoxicated while on duty, and to this is laid the responsibility for the loss of life and for the loss of the Irma which sank soon after being hit."

AGRICULTURAL AND DOMESTIC SCIENCE SCHOOL

The advertising committee has said heretofore that the extremely dry weather afforded a strong reason for insisting upon the general attendance of the farmers of Caddo county, at the approaching Supreme District Agricultural and Domestic Science School in Anadarko. That was sound talk.

It is a patent fact, however, that the rains that fallen since then have encouraged the farmers, causing them to feel that life is more abundantly worth living and that the good things of life are worth embracing.

Now, let us look for a moment at some of the attractions of that week's school course.

All lectures will be practical and scientific. The following will perform the active work of the school:

Prof. Roy C. Potts, head of the department of dairying in the A.
& M. College, Stillwater.

Miss Irma Mathews, superintendent of Women's Auxiliaries of Farmers' Institutes, Oklahoma City.

Prof. Joseph Watson, head of the department of music, Stillwater.

Prof. W. E. Schreiber, head of the department of physical training, Stillwater.

Miss Emma J. Ross, director of physical training for women at A.
& M. college.

Miss Jeanette Taylor, professor of domestic science, Connell state school of agriculture, Helena.

J. S. Murray, state superintendent of Farmers' Institutes, Oklahoma City.

V. R. McBride, poultryman at
A. & M. college.

Miss Madge Sanders, instructor in piano Stillwater.

Dr. Calhoun, state veterinarian of the Board of Agriculture.

C. E. Sanborn, head of department of entomology, Stillwater.

Arthur Skinner, instructor in canning and preserving.

S. A. Minear, department of agriculture for schools.

C. R. Lottier, head of department of agriculture, Broken Arrow.

A. M. Ferguson, special lecturer on farm crops.

Miss Iva McBride, department H. D. Strother, instructor in violin, Stillwater.

W. A. Linklater, head of animal husbandry department.

Miss Minnie Walters, domestic science, Haskell school of agriculture.

Howard G. Seldridge, department of public speaking.

When to the foregoing list of talent, is added the information that there will be six days of active work, with a definite program for each day, the conclusion that the course of instruction is to be a great treat in every sense cannot be resisted.

Night sessions will begin at 8 o'clock.

The night lectures will be illustrated with lantern slides and moving pictures will be shown.

So, it is plain that the way to attend this school course is to come to town with the intention of staying over night, at least, in all cases where this is possible.

Respectfully,
Advertising Committee.

Peas Sweet and Tender

(Grown and Produced)

New State Peas

Canned Peas which retain the flavor of the fresh vegetables are a delight to the family. The difficulty is in getting them.

TO BE SURE ASK FOR

New State Peas are grown in Wisconsin where the climate and soil are conducive to the growth of the sweetest, most delicious small peas. They are canned where grown and packed in Wisconsin Spring Water.

The Original Taste is Preserved

Try a can and if dissatisfied, better than peas fresh from the garden, your money will be refunded. Thank you.

LOUIS PEAS

(High Grade—Pamper Peas)

Louis Peas are packed and canned under the same conditions as the famous New State Peas. The quality is similar, only they are a little larger in size and a little lower in price.
